GUEST AT BANQUET

DR. HALL MEETS MEDICAL PROFESSION AT DINNER.

ARE SELF SACRIFICING

Dr. Hall Says They Are Making Sacrifice in Urging Preventative Methods.

"We do not only honor Dr. Hall by giving this banquet compliimentary to him, but the doctor has greatly honored us by his presence here this evening," said Dr. J. H. Todd, president of the Nodaway County Medical association, at the close of the banquet tendered by Dr. Winfield S. Hall by the association at Reuillard's Wednesday evening. Beside the members of the association present, the dentists of the city and a number of the men of the Normal faculty were guests of the M. D.'s.

Following a most excellent four-course banquet, the party adjourned to the balcony of the Elks club for several after-dinner talks. Dr. F. R. Anthony was the first speaker to respond. The doctor spoke briefly of the advancement of the medical science and the progress being made in the exercise of preventative medicine.

President H. K. Taylor of the Normal followed Dr. Anthony, and after thanking the association for the courtesy extended to the men of the faculty and himself, he emphasized the utter importance of adequate knowledge of the teacher along hygienic lines that the teachers may in turn instruct the pupils who come under their care.

Dr. Todd next called on Dr. Hall, who stated for the benefit of the school men present that the men of the medical profession always stand ready to respond to the call of the educator. "It is not in harmony with our professional ethics to proffer our services too strenuously," asserted the doctor, hence he explained that a great many of these plain truths were only just being learned by the general public.

"The urgent call of the present day physician for the use of preventative medicine is going to be a sacrifice to the medical men of this generation, Dr. Hall thinks, "but the medical men will rise to the occasion," he further asserted.

In closing, the doctor gave those present some very helpful instruction to be used in the campaign against social evil.

Dr. Hall delivered a clear and forceful address to women only at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, his address occupying one hour and a half. The auditorium was filled to overflowing and many seats in the gallery were occupied. Dr. Hall said at the banquet given for him Wednesday night that it was the largest audience of women he had ever spoken to in a town the size of Maryville.

His subject was a general one of social ethics, or "The Right and Wrong of Social Encounter." He made it plain to every mother present that it was her duty to tell her children the truth, especially her daughter, in regard to the so-called mysteries of life, and that if she did not have the wisdom to do it when it was her place, to inform herself for her own sake and that of her daughter. Ignorance, he said, on the part of parents, was responsible for wrong doing on the part of young people more often than willful sin.

"When parents inform themselves and then tell their children the thing they ought to know and ask about and have the right to know, in the right way, their children will grow up into pure, strong and useful men and women."

He spoke decidedly plain about the evil influence of dance halls, some picture shows and cheap theaters, and of the lowering of standards of character through familiarity of speech and action so common these days between boys and girls and men and women.

"Supplement every wrong idea and practice you discover in your child with the right idea and course of action, gently and wisely, and he will very soon forget all about his old way of thinking and doing."

THINKS HOPKINS MAN HER SON.

Call From St. Joseph Identifies Demented Man Held by Sheriff Tilson.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning Sheriff W. R. Tilson received a long distance call from a Mrs. Pine, living at 1116 Harland avenue, St. Joseph, claiming that the demented man who was found six miles west of Hopkins Wednesday afternoon, June 12, and was brought to this city by the sheriff, was her son. When captured the man refused to give Sheriff Tilson his name, telling the authorities to call him John Miller.

The woman's description of her wayward son corresponded in every particular with Miller, so Tilson took his charge to St. Joseph this morning via the Great Western.

Mrs. Pine told the authorities over the telephone that in case the man was her son that she would take charge of him.

MORRIS GETS OFFICE

COUNCIL GIVES UP FIGHT AT SPECIAL MEETING.

BROUGHT MANDAMUS SUIT

The Judge Was the Only Candidate at the April Election and Received All Votes.

At the special meeting of the city council Wednesday night a commission was ordered to J. W. Morris as police judge. The council has attempted to combine the office with that of mayor in order to reduce expenses.

Judge Morris was a candidate for the office at the April election, and while only a few votes were cast for the office, he received them all, no other candidate being in the race.

The council refused to recognize his election, and mandamus proceedings were brought. An alternative writ was granted, and the council woke up to the fact that they had a real contest on hand.

An interesting series of speculations are opened up as to what might occur if the right of the mayor to sit as police judge for the past two months were seriously questioned.

PIRATES FINALLY VICTORIOUS.

South-Paw Lesh Leads Buccaneers in a 4 to 1 Win Over Wilson's Cubs.

Standing of the Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pr.ct
Giants	2	1	.666
Athletics	2	1	.666
Cubs	1	2	.333
Pirates	1	2	.333

It took Prof. J. A. Lesh of the Normal faculty to pitch the lowly Pirates to their first victory of the season Wednesday afternoon over the Cubs, The professor is a south-paw, and he pitched a mighty swell game, letting the Cubs down with five hits and one tally. (No, the Cubs are not a new team—the Rounders decided that they would rather be Bruins than Rounders, hence the change.) The losers' lone count was the result of a home run swat by Pitcher Wilson, which had all the earmarks of a foul ball, but the umps didn't see it that way. Shylock Wilson didn't toss such a bad game, but in the fifth frame he hit two men, they were advanced on an infield roller and both runners scored on a wild return to the pitcher by Simpson. The winners collected two more runs in the sixth and seventh innings, the final score being 4 to 1.

The Pirates' victory last night puts them in the running and makes the race all the more interesting. The next game of the schedule will be played Thursday afternoon, the two leaders fighting for the hold on first place.

AN ALL-NIGHT SESSION

Protracted Struggle is Expected to Continue Until Morning—Roosevelt Losing in Committee.

The national Republican convention met in Chicago at 12 o'clock Thursday and immediately adjourned to 4 o'clock.

Rumors of all kinds were rife as to bolts, withdrawals, etc.

The Roosevelt delegates on the credentials committee bolted the session of the committee during the night, the alleged reason being the adoption of the following rules to govern contested cases:

That no contest cases should be considered except those appealed from the decisions of the national committee.

That none should be taken up where the decision of the national committee had been unanimous.

That cases should be consolidated, where such action had been taken at the previous hearing.

That the contestants who were not seated (usually the Roosevelt men) should open the arguments.

That ten minutes be allowed for state cases and five for district cases for counsel on each side.

That no evidence be considered that was not considered at the previous hearing.

The last two provisions brought on the fight, Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota and other Roosevelt men claiming the committee should open all evidence in all cases.

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago contained in the morning papers says:

"So far as I am concerned," declared Colonel Roosevelt to his delegates and advisers in an address this morning, "I am through. If you are voted down, I hope you, the real and

Busby-Reaksecker.

A very pretty wedding occurred on Wednesday evening, June 19, at 6 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Busby, seven miles southwest of Maryville, when their daughter, Miss Goldie, was united in marriage to Mr. Lester O. Reaksecker, a prominent young farmer of that vicinity, Rev. H. K. Morga of Quitman officiating.

Promptly at 6 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Cleo Kime of Hopkins, a cousin of the bride. The bride and groom took their places before an altar made of ferns, roses and potted plants, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out very prettily in the decorations.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of heavy silk embroidered lace over white messaline. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses, gypsophylla and swansonia, tied with white satin ribbon, and wore a wreath of swansonia and roses in her hair. She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Neva Reaksecker, who wore a gown of cream meteor crepe, trimmed with silk shadow lace, and wore a bandeau of crepe in her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, gypsophylla and swansonia, tied with pink satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Bernice Wells of Hopkins, Miss Lora E. Proctor of Stanberry, Miss Chloe Busby of Maryville and Miss Vernie Coler of Skidmore, wore gowns of pink silk trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and bandeaux of pink moline and pink rosettes on their slippers. They carried bouquets of white carnations and gypsophyllas, tied with white moline.

Mrs. Busby, the bride's mother, wore a gown of gray taffeta with lace trimmings.

Mrs. Reaksecker, the groom's mother, wore a gray net over lavender messaline with gray band trimmings.

The bride's table was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the colors being used in a three-course dinner.

The groom wore the conventional black, and was attended by Orville K. Busby of Lucerne, Mo., a brother of the bride.

The occasion of the marriage of Miss Goldie was also the thirty-first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Busby.

Many beautiful presents were received.

After a short trip they will be at home to their many friends after July 1st on Mr. Reaksecker's farm, eight miles southwest of Maryville. They have the best wishes of all who know them for a happy life.

Those present of the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Busby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yahrmark, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Coler and children, Misses Chloe Busby, Vernie Coler, Neva Reaksecker, Cleo Kime, Bernice Wells, Lora Proctor, Wilma Nicholas, Messrs. Warren and Noble Reaksecker, Harland Wells, Ernest and Ermil Coler, Orville Busby, John Busby, Charlie Bracken, Paul and Carrol Hogan, and Mrs. Lettie Kime and Mrs. William Wells of Hopkins.

Shelton-Gill Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Birde Shelton of this city and Mr. Armonde Gill of Sheridan, Wyo., was quietly solemnized at 7 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lillie Shelton, 209 West Second street, in the presence of near relatives and friends. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford of the First M. E. church. All the rooms of the home were decorated with immense bouquets of red clover blossoms. The bride wore a most becoming traveling suit of gray and white striped cloth with hat to match, and wore a bouquet of illies of the valley.

All the wedding music was given by Director P. O. Landon of the Conservatory, and was the improvisation of an original theme.

After congratulations from the wedding guests Mr. Gill and his bride left on the Burlington train for a honeymoon trip through Yellowstone park, and will not be at home until late in the summer, on his ranch, twelve miles southwest of Sheridan, Wyo. They were met at the train by many friends of the bride, among whom were her pupils at the Maryville Conservatory of Music who started them off on their trip amid showers of rice and clover blossoms. As the train left the station the bride threw away her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Mary Hughes.

The relatives at the wedding were Mrs. Lillie Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Dean, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean and daughters, Dale Hoffman, Helen and Virginia Belle; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Neal and their daughter, Mrs. Orlando Baird of Boise, Idaho. The friends present were Miss Mary Hughes, Professor and Mrs. P. O. Landon and sons, Truman and Court; Miss Lottie Perrin, Miss Marie Jones and Miss Sara McMaster.

Mrs. Gill, the bride, is a daughter of the late Edward Shelton. Her husband is a son of T. B. Gill, who, until ten years ago, was a prominent farmer and stockman, living west of Maryville. The bride and groom have been sweethearts from childhood. They grew up together on adjoining farms, attended the same district school, and later graduated from the Maryville seminary in the class of 1902, Mr. Gill in the classical course and Mrs. Gill in the classical and music courses.

In 1905 Mrs. Gill was a post-graduate of the Maryville Conservatory under Director Landon's personal instruction. She became a member of the Conservatory faculty at that time, and later took special instruction under Glen Dillard Gunn of Chicago for six months. In 1910 she went to Berlin, Germany, and studied under Rudolph Ganz. She is an able, conscientious student and teacher, and her departure from Maryville will be keenly felt by the Maryville Conservatory, where she has taught for six years, and by all of Maryville's best music circles.

Mr. Gill left Maryville immediately after his graduation from the Maryville seminary ten years ago, and settled near Sheridan, Wyo., where he and his father and twin brother, Arthur Gill, have prospered greatly as ranchmen. Mr. and Mrs. Gill have the best wishes of hosts of old and new friends for a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

Members of Credentials Committee Demanded All Evidence.

ACTED UNDER COLONEL'S ORDERS

Rushed to Hotel for Conference With T. R.—Later Returned, But Again Bolted Meeting at Midnight.

Chicago, June 20.—Roosevelt members of the credentials committee acting under the specific orders of Col. Rosevelt, broke out of the committee room at 10:30 p. m. after attempting to beat open the doors and bring all newspaper men into the room.

The doors of the committee room were suddenly thrown open by J. J. Sullivan of Ohio, who rushed out with the cry, "All Roosevelt men walk out."

He was followed by Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota, Francis J. Heney of California, George L. Record of New Jersey and other Roosevelt men.

Called for the Reporters.

As they pushed open the swinging doors after Sullivan, they cried out to the newspaper men:

"All newspaper men come inside and see what they are trying to do to us."

Col. Thayer, assistant sergeant-at-arms, shouted to the doorkeeper to admit no one. The Roosevelt forces again called for every one to come in.

Mr. Thayer called for policemen who pushed their way through and kept the crowd from getting in.

The Roosevelt men poured out of the room, declaring they were acting under the orders of Col. Roosevelt.

"Everybody go to the Florentine room at the Congress," shouted one man.

They rushed out, followed by the crowd, and in the street outside of the Coliseum they were overtaken by Secretary William Hayward.

Acted Under Orders.

"Why did you act that way?" he demanded of Heney.

"We are acting under the direct orders of Col. Roosevelt," retorted Heney.

Hugh T. Halbert declared the break came as the result of the refusal of the majority in the committee to open up all evidence in the cases. Mr. Halbert presented resolutions asking that the temporary roll of the convention be considered only as prima facie evidence of the right of delegates to sit; and that all evidence, testimony and the like be gone into.

He declared the committee refused to do this and attempted to "gag" the minority by making rules that would have left the action of the national committee as practically decisive in all the contests.

Mr. Heney later came back to the lobby and urged the Roosevelt contestants to go to the Florentine room of the Congress, where the Roosevelt headquarters are located, and be heard by the members of the credentials committee representing Roosevelt.

Believing they had acted too hastily, some of the Roosevelt men, including Mr. Halbert, returned to the committee room after a short conference in the street. While Mr. Record and Mr. Heney declared they were acting under Mr. Roosevelt's direction, others believed they should have remained until definite action was taken by the committee upon the time for argument and the character of evidence to be considered.

Would Wait for a Vote.

R. R. McCormick of Chicago also remained in the committee room. Mr. Halbert declared they would stay until they had secured a vote on his resolution for consideration of all evidence in the contest cases and would then again leave.

James R. Garfield of Ohio, former secretary of interior, came to the door and attempted to enter the room. It was understood he had some message from Col. Roosevelt. The policemen and doorkeeper trust him back, although one of the committee men attempted to pull him in. With the aid of Ormsby McHarg he was ushered into a committee waiting room through a side door.

Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, and Mr. Heney joined Mr. Garfield in the committee anteroom. A. A. D. Rahn of Minnesota and several other men in the confidence of the colonel also were passed through the wicket into this conference room.

No definite list of the number of men who left the committee room could be obtained. It was admitted that practically all of them had returned to go through a regular fight in the committee. Heney was called out by a messenger to answer the telephone, but refused to state what advice Senator Dixon and Mr. Garfield had given to the Roosevelt forces. He did not return to the anteroom, but left the building hurriedly in a taxicab, declining to reveal his destination.

Progressives Not Agreed.

After the bolt of the Roosevelt members of the credentials committee Roosevelt delegates poured into the Florentine room of the Congress hotel, where it was announced the bolting contingent would assemble. Edward C. Carrington, the first member of the credentials committee to arrive, precipitated a debate when he announced the action he and his fellow members had taken.

The delegates split into factions, some urging that the committeemen should go back, participate in the deliberations and submit a minority report to the convention. Others clamored that the bolters stand fast. At times the meeting was in an uproar.

Chicago, June 20.—A second bolt of the Roosevelt members of the credentials committee came at midnight. All the Roosevelt men left the meeting.

A conference of Roosevelt delegates was at once called to meet Col. Roosevelt himself in Orchestra hall.

"What does this mean?" a United States senator who refused to allow his name to be used, was asked.

"It means the nomination of Roosevelt," he replied.

"By a second convention?" he was asked.

"I can't answer that," he replied.

Bulletin.

Chicago, June 20.—At 1:15 a. m. Senator Murray Crane, the Taft leader from Massachusetts and Senator Kenyon of Iowa, broke up a conference that had lasted between themselves for nearly three hours. Senator Crane said that he and Mr. Kenyon had met to discuss replacing Taft before the convention with Cummins and that there was good reason to believe that this outcome would settle the controversy now before the convention.

CALL FOR HADLEY AS COMPROMISE

Missouri's Governor Likely to be Named for President.

STARTED BY WATSON OF INDIANA

Roosevelt Strength Will Go to Dark Horse, Should He Fail to Get Nomination on First Ballot.

(By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.)

Convention Hall Chicago, June 20.—James Watson of Indiana, the Taft floor manager at the Republican national convention unconsciously started a boom for Gov. Hadley of Missouri that promises to result in the naming of the Missouri executive as the party's candidate for president.

Col. Roosevelt intimated during the evening that he would not stand in the way of the Hadley boom as a compromise candidate and Roosevelt delegates in the hotels were freely predicting that the colonel would throw his strength to the man from Missouri if, after the first ballot it seemed that he could not himself get a majority of the delegates.

The Hadley boom did not loose any of its momentum during the night, and as the convention opens his name is heard everywhere as the dark horse so many have been looking for.

Gov. Hadley was in no way a party to his sudden plunge into the arena as people's nominee. He had originally moved to substitute a temporary roll prepared by the Roosevelt leaders for that prepared by the national committee. The carrying of the motion would have taken from the roll of the convention the names of 78 Taft delegates and substituted Roosevelt men.

Four hours had been granted for the discussion of the motion and the debate developed into the bitterest kind of personalities, creating a continous uproar.

Hadley Protested.

Gov. Hadley led the debate for the motion and Mr. Watson led the opposing forces. Just as Mr. Watson was completing the closing argument he made the statement that he was authorized to say for the gentleman from Missouri, that he was willing to have the entire dispute referred to the credentials committee. He did not complete the statement which he intended to make.

Gov. Hadley was on his feet instantly to protest.

Before he could utter a word the entire Roosevelt delegation was on its feet cheering, and the more effort Chairman Root made to quell the tumult the louder it became.

"We want Hadley, Hadley, Hadley. We want Hadley for president," was shouted and repeated through the hall. Then the Taft delegates joined in the uproar, many of them calling for Hadley.

The members of the Missouri delegation carried their standard to the platform where the governor sat. California's Teddy Bear joined the Missouri standard, while close behind California came New Jersey, West Virgiria, Ohio, Oklahoma and others.

Senator Flynn grabbed the Pennsylvania standard and placed it beside that of Missouri.

A Hadley Demonstration.

The governor added his efforts to those of the chairman in attempting to quell the tumult, but it grew rather than diminished. Various state delegations divided on the subject, a portion of the delegates attempting to add the state emblems to those already at the platform while others fought to protect the indications of a preference for the man from Missouri, and added to the uproar.

It was a Hadley demonstration, the greatest that had ever been witnessed in a national convention, until Mrs. W. B. Davis, of Chicago, unfurled a large picture of Roosevelt from the gallery and attempted to turn the enthusiasm to the colonel. She succeeded to some extent, temporarily at least. After she had led the cheering from the gallery for several minutes she was taken to the platform and held the attention of the convention for a quarter of an hour longer. It was nearly an hour from the time that demonstration started before the tumult had sufficiently subsided to enable the convention to resume.

Amendment Was Tabled.

Mr. Watson then took the floor and explained that Gov. Hadley was willing the contests should be referred to the credentials committee and would so move with the assurance that Gov. Deneen of Illinois would submit an amendment providing that those the legality of whose selection was questioned, should not be allowed a voice in the selection of the members of the credentials committee or that they would have no vote on the adoption of the report of the credentials committee.

Watson moved to table the amendment which was done by a vote of 564 to 510.

Gov. Hadley's original motion to refer to the credentials committee was then carried, after which the chair ruled that the contested delegates from any state could not vote on the report of the credentials committee covering their state, but those seated by the national committee could vote on the report on other than their own state.

lawful majority of the convention, will organize as such and you will do it if you have the courage and loyalty of your convictions."

The following specials from the Western Newspaper Union were received by The Democrat-Forum Thursday:

Credentials committee went into session at 9:30. West of Illinois declares there will be no bolt.

The rumor was current at 11 a. m. that Roosevelt had withdrawn, presumably in favor of Hadley. Colonel is said to have released his instructed delegates.

Immense crowds gathered outside the Colliseum, making entrance of ticket holders very difficult. Report of Roosevelt's withdrawing causes great excitement.

At 11:30 A. O. H. Davis of Roosevelt campaign committee issued flat denial of the story that the colonel had released his delegates or would do so.

Reports at the Colliseum that President Taft would withdraw were met by prompt and emphatic denials by wire direct from the White House.

Convention was called to order at noon. On Motion a recess was taken until 4 p. m. to await report of the credentials committee. Roosevelt conference set for 2 p. m., one man from each delegation to meet with the colonel. All night session predicted.

The number of contested delegates was reduced to fifty by the action of Roosevelt's leaders in dropping Louisiana, Georgia, Kentucky, Michigan, Missippi and Virginia cases.

Losing in Committee.

Motion to seat Roosevelt delegates in the ninth Alabama lost, 14 to 34.

The committee on organization voted, 21 to 7, to make the temporary organization permanent. Minority members promptly left the room. Twenty-four members absent.

A Noble Man Has Gone.

James A. Wiley, who died at his home in Pickering Wednesday morning, June 19, 1912, of Bright's disease and heart failure, was aged 74 years, 8 months and 12 days.

The funeral services, conducted by the Rev. H. J. Dueker, pastor, and assisted by the Rev. W. E. Royston, a former pastor, were held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Pickering on Thursday afternoon. Interment was made in the White Oak cemetery.

Mr. Wiley was born in Noble county, Ohio, October 7, 1838. In 1853, at the age of 15 years, he moved with his parents to Warren county, Iowa. During the civil war he was a soldier in Company H, Thirty-fourth Iowa Volunteer infantry.

On the 21st day of October, 1857, James A. Wiley and Miss Eliza J. Allen, a native of Harrison county, Missouri, were united in marriage. In October, 1868, eleven years after their marriage, they moved to Nodaway county, Missouri.

The union of this happy couple was blessed with eight children. They are: The Rev. William F. Wiley, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Clearmont, Mo.; Mrs. Mary M. Reznor of Modale, Ia.; Andrew J. Wiley, Edward J. Wiley, Jacob A. Wiley and Mrs. Luella Scott of Pickering, Mo.; Mrs. Lorinda A. Wray of Hopkins, Mo., and Arthur A. Wiley of Maryville. All these esteemed Christian sons and daughters survive their father, with their mother, and all save one were present at the obsequies.

At the age of 25 years James Wiley, the subject of this sketch, had a clear experience of conversion to God, and at that time he joined the Methodist Episcopal church and remained a consistent Christian within her fold until the time of his translation to the church triumphant.

In the church the deceased was an active, efficient worker, filling the offices of Sunday school teacher and superintendent, steward, trustee and class leader. He was also a potent factor for good in his earnest endeavors for the best government in the body politic, as a friend of education, and, in fact, for the general public good.

He was a man of elevated diction. He was not voluble, but fluent in speech. His was a simple and strong faith. He will be very much missed in the "assembling of the saints."

To the surviving and beloved companion of almost fifty-five years, to the sons and daughters and grandchildren he has left a rich legacy—a name without a stain.

Besides the descendants there survive Father Wiley, one brother, Jacob A. Wiley of Bedford, Ia., and three sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Wesley Burkhead, together with her husband, of Prole, Ia., and the brother, attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Mary Reznor, wife of Rev. T. J. Reznor of Morab, Ia., on account of her own illness, could not attend the solemn rite of her father. Recently they both visited here at some length.

If Mr. Wiley suffered no one learned of it. He never murmured and never complained. Toward the last he was delirious but very little. He spoke with composure of his disease. The end came without a struggle. It was the end of a just man.

H. J. DUEKER.

Obituary.

(Following is a corrected notice of the death of W. M. Pearson, the aged man who died at the home of his son, M. H. Pearson, at the southwest edge of this city, May 31.)

W. M. Pearson died at his home in Southwest Maryville, May 31, 1912, at the age of 90 years, 1 month and 25 days. The funeral services were held at the residence, June 1, at 2:30 in the afternoon, conducted by Rev. Claude J. Miller of the Christian church. The pallbearers were John Dempsey, Henry Sowers, W. W. Glass, W. C. Frank, Ed E. Hamlin, R. A. Strawbridge.

Mr. Pearson is survived by his wife and their two sons, M. H. Pearson of this city, and Oliver P. Pearson of Modesto, Cal. Also one sister, Mrs. J. A. Skillman of Tribune, Kan.

Mr. Pearson was born in Bourbon county, Ky., April 6, 1822. He moved with his parents, when a small boy, to Andrew county, Missouri. He grew to manhood in Andrew and Nodaway counties.

He married Miss Mary C. Osborn, June 28, 1854, in Bates county, Missouri, the Rev. Joseph Beaver, a Christian church minister, performing the ceremony. Mr. Pearson was a blacksmith and wagon maker by trade. He sold goods for a number of years in Kansas, first in Bourbon county, Kansas, twelve miles north of Fort Scott, and again in Paola, Kan.

After his boys grew up he bought a farm and went to farming. When they married and went to homes of their own he left Kansas and moved to Maryville in the fall of 1890, buying the 5-acre tract on the southwest border of Maryville, where he died.

Mr. Pearson confessed faith in Christ by obeying his command, in 1857, while living in Kansas. He held out faithful to the end. Te last four years of his life had been lonely, because his failing health deprived him of the pleasure and enjoyment of attending church services, but they were a happy and pleasant four years with his family, and prayerful years. His faith was not weakened by staying at home, but it grew stronger. His wife read the Bible to him daily and prayed with him. He never failed to give thanks to his Heavenly Father before taking nourishment, and when speech left him through weakness, he bowed his head in silent prayer to the giver of all good to the last day of his life here.

GUEST AT BANQUET

DR. HALL MEETS MEDICAL PROFESSION AT DINNER.

ARE SELF SACRIFICING

Dr. Hall Says They Are Making Sacrifice in Urging Preventative Methods.

"We do not only honor Dr. Hall by giving this banquet complimentary to him, but the doctor has greatly honored us by his presence here this evening," said Dr. J. H. Todd, president of the Nodaway County Medical association, at the close of the banquet tendered by Dr. Winfield S. Hall by the association at Reuillard's Wednesday evening. Beside the members of the association present, the dentists of the city and a number of the men of the Normal faculty were guests of the M. D.'s.

Following a most excellent four-course banquet, the party adjourned to the balcony of the Elks club for several after-dinner talks. Dr. F. R. Anthony was the first speaker to respond. The doctor spoke briefly of the advancement of the medical science and the progress being made in the exercise of preventative medicine.

President H. K. Taylor of the Normal followed Dr. Anthony, and after thanking the association for the courtesy extended to the men of the faculty and himself, he emphasized the utter importance of adequate knowledge of the teacher along hygienic lines that the teachers may in turn instruct the pupils who come under their care.

Dr. Todd next called on Dr. Hall, who stated for the benefit of the school men present that the men of the medical profession always stand ready to respond to the call of the educator. "It is not in harmony with our professional ethics to proffer our services too strenuously," asserted the doctor, hence he explained that a great many of these plain truths were only just being learned by the general public.

"The urgent call of the present day physician for the use of preventative medicine is going to be a sacrifice to the medical men of this generation, Dr. Hall thinks, "but the medical men will rise to the occasion," he further asserted.

In closing, the doctor gave those present some very helpful instruction to be used in the campaign against social evil.

Dr. Hall delivered a clear and forceful address to women only at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, his address occupying one hour and a half. The auditorium was filled to overflowing and many seats in the gallery were occupied. Dr. Hall said at the banquet given for him Wednesday night that it was the largest audience of women he had ever spoken to in a town the size of Maryville.

His subject was a general one of social ethics, or "The Right and Wrong of Social Encounter." He made it plain to every mother present that it was her duty to tell her children the truth, especially her daughter, in regard to the so-called mysteries of life, and that if she did not have the wisdom to do it when it was her place, to inform herself for her own sake and that of her daughter. Ignorance, he said, on the part of parents, was responsible for wrong doing on the part of young people more often than willful sin.

"When parents inform themselves and then tell their children the things they ought to know and ask about and have the right to know, in the right way, their children will grow up into pure, strong and useful men and women."

He spoke decidedly plain about the evil influence of dance halls, some picture shows and cheap theaters, and of the lowering of standards of character through familiarity of speech and action so common these days between boys and girls and men and women.

"Supplement every wrong idea and practice you discover in your child with the right idea and course of action, gently and wisely, and he will very soon forget all about his old way of thinking and doing."

THINKS HOPKINS MAN HER SON.

Call From St. Joseph Identifies Demented Man Held by Sheriff Tilson.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning Sheriff W. R. Tilson received a long distance call from a Mrs. Pine, living at 1116 Harland avenue, St. Joseph, claiming that the demented man who was found six miles west of Hopkins Wednesday afternoon, June 12, and was brought to this city by the sheriff, was her son. When captured the man refused to give Sheriff Tilson his name, telling the authorities to call him John Miller.

The woman's description of her wayward son corresponded in every particular with Miller, so Tilson took his charge to St. Joseph this morning via the Great Western.

Mrs. Pine told the authorities over the telephone that in case the man was her son that she would take charge of him.

MORRIS GETS OFFICE

COUNCIL GIVES UP FIGHT AT SPECIAL MEETING.

BROUGHT MANDAMUS SUIT

The Judge Was the Only Candidate at the April Election and Received All Votes.

At the special meeting of the city council Wednesday night a commission was ordered to J. W. Morris as police judge. The council has attempted to combine the office with that of mayor in order to reduce expenses.

Judge Morris was a candidate for the office at the April election, and while only a few votes were cast for the office, he received them all, no other candidate being in the race.

The council refused to recognize his election, and mandamus proceedings were brought. An alternative writ was granted, and the council woke up to the fact that they had a real contest on hand.

An interesting series of speculations are opened up as to what might occur if the right of the mayor to sit as police judge for the past two months were seriously questioned.

PIRATES FINALLY VICTORIOUS.

South-Paw Lesh Leads Buccaneers in a 4 to 1 Win Over Wilson's Cubs.

Standing of the Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pr.ct
Giants	2	1	.666
Athletics	2	1	.666
Cubs	1	2	.333
Pirates	1	2	.333

It took Prof. J. A. Lesh of the Normal faculty to pitch the lowly Pirates to their first victory of the season Wednesday afternoon over the Cubs, The professor is a south-paw, and he pitched a mighty swell game, letting the Cubs down with five hits and one tally. (No, the Cubs are not a new team—the Rounders decided that they would rather be Bruins than Rounders, hence the change.) The losers' lone count was the result of a home run swat by Pitcher Wilson, which had all the earmarks of a foul ball, but the umps didn't see it that way. Shylock Wilson didn't toss such a bad game, but in the fifth frame he hit two men, they were advanced on an infield roller and both runners scored on a wild return to the pitcher by Simpson. The winners collected two more runs in the sixth and seventh innings, the final score being 4 to 1.

The Pirates' victory last night puts them in the running and makes the race all the more interesting. The next game of the schedule will be played Thursday afternoon, the two leaders fighting for the hold on first place.

AN ALL-NIGHT SESSION

Protracted Struggle is Expected to Continue Until Morning—Roosevelt Losing in Committee.

The national Republican convention met in Chicago at 12 o'clock Thursday and immediately adjourned to 4 o'clock.

Rumors of all kinds were rife as to bolts, withdrawals, etc.

The Roosevelt delegates on the credentials committee bolted the session of the committee during the night, the alleged reason being the adoption of the following rules to govern contested cases:

That no contest cases should be considered except those appealed from the decisions of the national committee.

That none should be taken up where the decision of the national committee had been unanimous.

That cases should be consolidated, where such action had been taken at the previous hearing.

That the contestants who were not seated (usually the Roosevelt men) should open the arguments.

That ten minutes be allowed for state cases and five for district cases for counsel on each side.

That no evidence be considered that was not considered at the previous hearing.

The last two provisions brought on the fight, Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota and other Roosevelt men claiming the committee should open all evidence in all cases.

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago contained in the morning papers says:

"So far as I am concerned," declared Colonel Roosevelt to his delegates and advisers in an address this morning, "I am through. If you are voted down, I hope you, the real and

Busby-Reaksecker.

A very pretty wedding occurred on Wednesday evening, June 19, at 6 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Busby, seven miles southwest of Maryville, when their daughter, Miss Goldie, was united in marriage to Mr. Lester O. Reaksecker, a prominent young farmer of that vicinity, Rev. H. K. Morga of Quitman officiating.

Promptly at 6 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Cleo Kime of Hopkins, a cousin of the bride. The bride and groom took their places before an altar made of ferns, roses and potted plants, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out very prettily in the decorations.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of heavy silk embroidered lace over white messaline. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses, gypsophylla and swansonia, tied with white satin ribbon, and wore a wreath of swansonia and roses in her hair. She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Neva Reaksecker, who wore a gown of cream meteor crepe, trimmed with silk shadow lace, and wore a bandeau of crepe in her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, gypsophylla and swansonia, tied with pink satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Bernice Wells of Hopkins, Miss Lora E. Proctor of Stanberry, Miss Chloe Busby of Maryville and Miss Vernie Coler of Skidmore, wore gowns of pink silk trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and bandeaux of pink moline and pink rosettes on their slippers. They carried bouquets of white carnations and gypsophyllas, tied with white moline.

Mrs. Busby, the bride's mother, wore a gown of gray taffeta with lace trimmings.

Mrs. Reaksecker, the groom's mother, wore a gray net over lavender messaline with gray band trimmings.

The bride's table was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the colors being used in a three-course dinner.

The groom wore the conventional black, and was attended by Orville K. Busby of Lucerne, Mo., a brother of the bride.

The occasion of the marriage of Miss Goldie was also the thirty-first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Busby.

Many beautiful presents were received.

After a short trip they will be at home to their many friends after July 1st on Mr. Reaksecker's farm, eight miles southwest of Maryville. They have the best wishes of all who know them for a happy life.

Those present of the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Busby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yahrmark, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Shelton-Gill Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Birde Shelton of this city and Mr. Armonde Gill of Sheridan, Wyo., was quietly solemnized at 7 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lillie Shelton, 209 West Second street, in the presence of near relatives and friends. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford of the First M. E. church. All the rooms of the home were decorated with immense bouquets of red clover blossoms. The bride wore a most becoming traveling suit of gray and white striped cloth with hat to match, and wore a bouquet of illies of the valley.

All the wedding music was given by Director P. O. Landon of the Conservatory, and was the improvisation of an original theme.

After congratulations from the wedding guests Mr. Gill and his bride left on the Burlington train for a honeymoon trip through Yellowstone park, and will not be at home until late in the summer, on his ranch, twelve miles southwest of Sheridan, Wyo. They were met at the train by many friends of the bride, among whom were her pupils at the Maryville Conservatory of Music who started them off on their trip amid showers of rice and clover blossoms. As the train left the station the bride threw away her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Mary Hughes.

The relatives at the wedding were Mrs. Lillie Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Dean, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean and daughters, Dale Hoffman, Helen and Virginia Belle; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Neal and their daughter, Mrs. Orlando Baird of Boise, Idaho. The friends present were Miss Mary Hughes, Professor and Mrs. P. O. Landon and sons, Truman and Court; Miss Lottie Perrin, Miss Marie Jones and Miss Sara McMaster.

Mrs. Gill, the bride, is a daughter of the late Edward Shelton. Her husband is a son of T. B. Gill, who, until ten years ago, was a prominent farmer and stockman, living west of Maryville. The bride and groom have been sweethearts from childhood. They grew up together on adjoining farms, attended the same district school, and later graduated from the Maryville seminary in the class of 1902, Mr. Gill in the classical course and Mrs. Gill in the classical and music courses.

In 1905 Mrs. Gill was a post-graduate of the Maryville Conservatory under Director Landon's personal instruction. She became a member of the Conservatory faculty at that time, and later took special instruction under Glen Dillard Gunn of Chicago for six months. In 1910 she went to Berlin, Germany, and studied under Rudolph Ganz. She is an able, conscientious student and teacher, and her departure from Maryville will be keenly felt by the Maryville Conservatory, where she has taught for six years, and by all of Maryville's best music circles.

Mr. Gill left Maryville immediately after his graduation from the Maryville seminary ten years ago, and settled near Sheridan, Wyo., where he and his father and twin brother, Arthur Gill, have prospered greatly as ranchmen. Mr. and Mrs. Gill have the best wishes of hosts of old and new friends for a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

Members of Credentials Committee Demanded All Evidence.

ACTED UNDER COLONEL'S ORDERS

Rushed to Hotel for Conference With T. R.—Later Returned, But Again Bolted Meeting at Midnight.

Chicago, June 20.—Roosevelt members of the credentials committee acting under the specific orders of Col. Rosevelt, broke out of the committee room at 10:30 p. m. after attempting to beat open the doors and bring all newspaper men into the room.

The doors of the committee room were suddenly thrown open by J. J. Sullivan of Ohio, who rushed out with the cry, "All Roosevelt men walk out."

He was followed by Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota, Francis J. Heney of California, George L. Record of New Jersey and other Roosevelt men.

Called for the Reporters.

As they pushed open the swinging doors after Sullivan, they cried out to the newspaper men:

"All newspaper men come inside and see what they are trying to do to us."

Col. Thayer, assistant sergeant-at-arms, shouted to the doorkeeper to admit no one. The Roosevelt forces again called for every one to come in.

Mr. Thayer called for policemen who pushed their way through and kept the crowd from getting in.

The Roosevelt men poured out of the room, declaring they were acting under the orders of Col. Roosevelt.

"Everybody go to the Florentine room at the Congress," shouted one man.

They rushed out, followed by the crowd, and in the street outside of the Coliseum they were overtaken by Secretary William Hayward.

Acted Under Orders.

"Why did you act that way?" he demanded of Heney.

"We are acting under the direct orders of Col. Roosevelt," retorted Heney.

Hugh T. Halbert declared the break came as the result of the refusal of the majority in the committee to open up all evidence in the cases. Mr. Halbert presented resolutions asking that the temporary roll of the convention be considered only as prima facie evidence of the right of delegates to sit; and that all evidence, testimony and the like be gone into.

He declared the committee refused to do this and attempted to "gag" the minority by making rules that would have left the action of the national committee as practically decisive in all the contests.

Mr. Heney later came back to the lobby and urged the Roosevelt contestants to go to the Florentine room of the Congress, where the Rooseveit headquarters are located, and be heard by the members of the credentials committee representing Roosevelt.

Believing they had acted too hastily, some of the Roosevelt men, including Mr. Halbert, returned to the committee room after a short conference in the street. While Mr. Record and Mr. Heney declared they were acting under Mr. Roosevelt's direction, others believed they should have remained until definite action was taken by the committee upon the time for argument and the character of evidence to be considered.

Would Wait for a Vote.

R. R. McCormick of Chicago also remained in the committee room. Mr. Halbert declared they would stay until they had secured a vote on his resolution for consideration of all evidence in the contest cases and would then again leave.

James R. Garfield of Ohio, former secretary of interior, came to the door and attempted to enter the room. It was understood he had some message from Col. Roosevelt. The policemen and doorkeeper trust him back, although one of the committee men attempted to pull him in. With the aid of Ormsby McHarg he was ushered into a committee waiting room through a side door.

Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, and Mr. Heney joined Mr. Garfield in the committee anteroom. A. A. D. Rahn of Minnesota and several other men in the confidence of the colonel also were passed through the wicket into this conference room.

No definite list of the number of men who left the committee room could be obtained. It was admitted that practically all of them had returned to go through a regular fight in the committee. Heney was called out by a messenger to answer the telephone, but refused to state what advice Senator Dixon and Mr. Garfield had given to the Roosevelt forces. He did not return to the anteroom, but left the building hurriedly in a taxicab, declining to reveal his destination.

Progressives Not Agreed.

After the bolt of the Roosevelt members of the credentials committee Roosevelt delegates poured into the Florentine room of the Congress hotel, where it was announced the bolting contingent would assemble. Edward C. Carrington, the first member of the credentials committee to arrive, precipitated a debate when he announced the action he and his fellow members had taken.

The delegates split into factions, some urging that the committeemen should go back, participate in the deliberations and submit a minority report to the convention. Others clamored that the bolters stand fast. At times the meeting was in an uproar.

Chicago, June 20.—A second bolt of the Roosevelt members of the credentials committee came at midnight. All the Roosevelt men left the meeting.

A conference of Roosevelt delegates was at once called to meet Col. Roosevelt himself in Orchestra hall.

"What does this mean?" a United States senator who refused to allow his name to be used, was asked.

"It means the nomination of Roosevelt," he replied.

"By a second convention?" he was asked.

"I can't answer that," he replied.

Senator Crane said that he and Mr. Kenyon had met to discuss replacing Taft before the convention with Cummins and that there was good reason to believe that this outcome would settle the controversy now before the convention.

CALL FOR HADLEY AS COMPROMISE

STARTED BY WATSON OF INDIANA

(By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.)

Convention Hall Chicago, June 20.—James Watson of Indiana, the Taft floor manager at the Republican national convention unconsciously started a boom for Gov. Hadley of Missouri that promises to result in the naming of the Missouri executive as the party's candidate for president.

Col. Roosevelt intimated during the evening that he would not stand in the way of the Hadley boom as a compromise candidate and Roosevelt delegates in the hotels were freely predicting that the colonel would throw his strength to the man from Missouri if, after the first ballot it seemed that he could not himself get a majority of the delegates.

The Hadley boom did not loose any of its momentum during the night, and as the convention opens his name is heard everywhere as the dark horse so many have been looking for.

Gov. Hadley was in no way a party to his sudden plunge into the arena as people's nominee. He had originally moved to substitute a temporary roll prepared by the Roosevelt leaders for that prepared by the national committee. The carrying of the motion would have taken from the roll of the convention the names of 78 Taft delegates and substituted Roosevelt men.

Four hours had been granted for the discussion of the motion and the debate developed into the bitterest kind of personalities, creating a continous uproar.

Hadley Protested.

Gov. Hadley led the debate for the motion and Mr. Watson led the opposing forces. Just as Mr. Watson was completing the closing argument he made the statement that he was authorized to say for the gentleman from Missouri, that he was willing to have the entire dispute referred to the credentials committee. He did not complete the statement which he intended to make.

Gov. Hadley was on his feet instantly to protest.

Before he could utter a word the entire Roosevelt delegation was on its feet cheering, and the more effort Chairman Root made to quell the tumult the louder it became.

"We want Hadley, Hadley, Hadley. We want Hadley for president," was shouted and repeated through the hall. Then the Taft delegates joined in the uproar, many of them calling for Hadley.

The members of the Missouri delegation carried their standard to the platform where the governor sat. California's Teddy Bear joined the Missouri standard, while close behind California came New Jersey, West Virgiria, Ohio, Oklahoma and others.

Senator Flynn grabbed the Pennsylvania standard and placed it beside that of Missouri.

A Hadley Demonstration.

The governor added his efforts to those of the chairman in attempting to quell the tumult, but it grew rather than diminished. Various state delegations divided on the subject, a portion of the delegates attempting to add the state emblems to those already at the platform while others fought to protect the indications of a preference for the man from Missouri, and added to the uproar.

It was a Hadley demonstration, the greatest that had ever been witnessed in a national convention, until Mrs. W. B. Davis, of Chicago, unfurled a large picture of Roosevelt from the gallery and attempted to turn the enthusiasm to the colonel. She succeeded to some extent, temporarily at least. After she had led the cheering from the gallery for several minutes she was taken to the platform and held the attention of the convention for a quarter of an hour longer. It was nearly an hour from the time that demonstration started before the tumult had sufficiently subsided to enable the convention to resume.

Amendment Was Tabled.

Mr. Watson then took the floor and explained that Gov. Hadley was willing the contests should be referred to the credentials committee and would so move with the assurance that Gov. Deneen of Illinois would submit an amendment providing that those the legality of whose selection was questioned, should not be allowed a voice in the selection of the members of the credentials committee or that they would have no vote on the adoption of the report of the credentials committee.

Watson moved to table the amendment which was done by a vote of 564 to 510.

Gov. Hadley's original motion to refer to the credentials committee was then carried, after which the chair ruled that the contested delegates from any state could not vote on the report of the credentials committee covering their state, but those seated by the national committee could vote on the report on other than their own state.

lawful majority of the convention, will organize as such and you will do it if you have the courage and loyalty of your convictions."

The following specials from the Western Newspaper Union were received by The Democrat-Forum Thursday:

Credentials committee went into session at 9:30. West of Illinois declares there will be no bolt.

The rumor was current at 11 a. m. that Roosevelt had withdrawn, presumably in favor of Hadley. Colonel is said to have released his instructed delegates.

Immense crowds gathered outside the Colliseum, making entrance of ticket holders very difficult. Report of Roosevelt's withdrawing causes great excitement.

At 11:30 A. O. H. Davis of Roosevelt campaign committee issued flat denial of the story that the colonel had released his delegates or would do so.

Reports at the Colliseum that President Taft would withdraw were met by prompt and emphatic denials by wire direct from the White House.

Convention was called to order at noon. On Motion a recess was taken until 4 p. m. to await report of the credentials committee. Roosevelt conference set for 2 p. m., one man from each delegation to meet with the colonel. All night session predicted.

The number of contested delegates was reduced to fifty by the action of Roosevelt's leaders in dropping Louisiana, Georgia, Kentucky, Michigan, Missippi and Virginia cases.

Losing in Committee.

Motion to seat Roosevelt delegates in the ninth Alabama lost, 14 to 34.

The committee on organization voted, 21 to 7, to make the temporary organization permanent. Minority members promptly left the room. Twenty-four members absent.

A Noble Man Has Gone.

James A. Wiley, who died at his home in Pickering Wednesday morning, June 19, 1912, of Bright's disease and heart failure, was aged 74 years, 8 months and 12 days.

The funeral services, conducted by the Rev. H. J. Dueker, pastor, and assisted by the Rev. W. E. Royston, a former pastor, were held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Pickering on Thursday afternoon. Interment was made in the White Oak cemetery.

Mr. Wiley was born in Noble county, Ohio, October 7, 1838. In 1853, at the age of 15 years, he moved with his parents to Warren county, Iowa. During the civil war he was a soldier in Company H, Thirty-fourth Iowa Volunteer infantry.

On the 21st day of October, 1857, James A. Wiley and Miss Eliza J. Allen, a native of Harrison county, Missouri, were united in marriage. In October, 1868, eleven years after their marriage, they moved to Nodaway county, Missouri.

The union of this happy couple was blessed with eight children. They are: The Rev. William F. Wiley, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Clearmont, Mo.; Mrs. Mary M. Reznor of Modale, Ia.; Andrew J. Wiley, Edward J. Wiley, Jacob A. Wiley and Mrs. Luella Scott of Pickering, Mo.; Mrs. Lorinda A. Wray of Hopkins, Mo., and Arthur A. Wiley of Maryville. All these esteemed Christian sons and daughters survive their father, with their mother, and all save one were present at the obsequies.

At the age of 25 years James Wiley, the subject of this sketch, had a clear experience of conversion to God, and at that time he joined the Methodist Episcopal church and remained a consistent Christian within her fold until the time of his translation to the church triumphant.

In the church the deceased was an active, efficient worker, filling the offices of Sunday school teacher and superintendent, steward, trustee and class leader. He was also a potent factor for good in his earnest endeavors for the best government in the body politic, as a friend of education, and, in fact, for the general public good.

He was a man of elevated diction. He was not voluble, but fluent in speech. His was a simple and strong faith. He will be very much missed in the "assembling of the saints."

To the surviving and beloved companion of almost fifty-five years, to the sons and daughters and grandchildren he has left a rich legacy—a name without a stain.

Besides the descendants there survive Father Wiley, one brother, Jacob A. Wiley of Bedford, Ia., and three sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Wesley Burkhead, together with her husband, of Prole, Ia., and the brother, attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Mary Reznor, wife of Rev. T. J. Reznor of Morab, Ia., on account of her own illness, could not attend the solemn rite of her father. Recently they both visited here at some length.

If Mr. Wiley suffered no one learned of it. He never murmured and never complained. Toward the last he was delirious but very little. He spoke with composure of his disease. The end came without a struggle. It was the end of a just man.

H. J. DUEKER.

Mr. Pearson was born in Bourbon county, Ky., April 6, 1822. He moved with his parents, when a small boy, to Andrew county, Missouri. He grew to manhood in Andrew and Nodaway counties.

He married Miss Mary C. Osborn, June 28, 1854, in Bates county, Missouri, the Rev. Joseph Beaver, a Christian church minister, performing the ceremony. Mr. Pearson was a blacksmith and wagon maker by trade. He sold goods for a number of years in Kansas, first in Bourbon county, Kansas, twelve miles north of Fort Scott, and again in Paola, Kan.

After his boys grew up he bought a farm and went to farming. When they married and went to homes of their own he left Kansas and moved to Maryville in the fall of 1890, buying the 5-acre tract on the southwest border of Maryville, where he died.

Mr. Pearson confessed faith in Christ by obeying his command, in 1857, while living in Kansas. He held out faithful to the end. Te last four years of his life had been lonely, because his failing health deprived him of the pleasure and enjoyment of attending church services, but they were a happy and pleasant four years with his family, and prayerful years. His faith was not weakened by staying at home, but it grew stronger. His wife read the Bible to him daily and prayed with him. He never failed to give thanks to his Heavenly Father before taking nourishment, and when speech left him through weakness, he bowed his head in silent prayer to the giver of all good to the last day of his life here.
